Dear Bill, and all our Friends at Shoff Darby, (please share with all)

On behalf of our event athletes as well as the children served by Kids in Crisis, I sincerely thank Shoff Darby for your sponsorship and support of our 2013 Stamford KIC IT Triathlon and Stamford KIC IT Kids Triathlon held this past weekend.

It was our goal to provide our athletes with a first class race, great entertainment, fun family activities, great food, and, quite simply, a weekend to remember. I think we can safely say we accomplished this. We sold out the race with a record 600 adult athletes and 200 kid athletes. We attracted 350 enthusiastic volunteers and thousands of cheerful spectators. None of this would have been possible without your support. But, perhaps most importantly, your generous sponsorship and involvement in ALL aspects of the race helped raise awareness about the services available to children and families in our community.

Kids in Crisis, founded in 1978, provides crucial emergency residential shelter and support services for children of all ages who have been abused, neglected, abandoned or are struggling with family conflict. For too many children in Connecticut, there is nowhere else to turn. The funds raised from the Stamford KIC IT Triathlon and Stamford KIC IT Kids Triathlon help Kids in Crisis provide free emergency crisis counseling and comprehensive care, including residential services, and complete medical, therapeutic and educational support for infants, children and teens. Thanks to your support of the race they learn that it does not have to hurt to be a child. That there are people in the community who care about them and want them to know they matter.

In acknowledging your generosity and the many businesses and individual's who give each year to make the Stamford KIC IT Triathlon a tri-state area favorite, you can view our great list of sponsors at <http://www.kicitriathlon.com/support/sponsors>.

Thank you again. We hope that you will continue to support Kids in Crisis and the Stamford KIC IT Triathlon next year and for many years to come.

With much love and gratitude,

Alon Marom
